CAUTION AGAINST MINNOW ABUSES

Coincident with the opening of the lakes to fishing for bass, perch, and pike comes a demand for minnows for use as bait. In some localities this demand has reached proportions that has resulted in the depletion of minnows in certain waters. This condition is almost certain to react unfavorably, as minnows form an important part of the food supply for many of our game fish.

Minnows are a necessary part of the equipment for most fishing parties, but a word of caution is directed toward a very common practice of taking more minnows than are actually needed or of crowding too many into a small minnow bucket with subsequent loss and waste. It is as important to conserve the food of the game fish as it is to conserve the supply of the game species, and conservation should be the watchword in the taking of minnows as well as in all matters pertaining to Michigan wild life.

THIRTY SECONDS
The time which would have been saved by the average victim of a grade crossing fatality if he had beaten the train is thirty seconds.

That is the liberal figure given a safety council meeting Tuesday by M. M. Cronk, assistant division superintendent for the Pere Marquette railroad. It is based upon the time an ordinary passenger train of ten cars, traveling at sixty miles an hour, takes to pass a given point. Passenger trains, according to Mr. Cronk, are found to be involved in three-fourths of grade crossing accidents.

Thirty seconds against eternity! These are the odds a driver takes when he gambles on his car's ability to cross the track first. He would regard himself as insane to wager on that basis in any other uncertainty of life, from a horse race to the turn of the stock market.

Yet hundreds of otherwise normal American citizens put themselves on the short end of these odds every year, throw the lives of their family and other passengers into the balance, and lose all. That is one game that never was worth the candle, and never will be. — Grand Rapids Press—Amen.

GRAND RAPIDS SEES PROFITS IN PIGGERY—PIGS EAT THE SEWAGE

Grand Rapids may go into the piggery business and if this departure by the municipal government is undertaken, while City Manager George W. Welsh is in charge of the administration of public affairs, it will have a man at its head who has had considerable experience in this business.

While the Kent county work farm was being operated by the board of supervisors, Welsh, as a member of the board, had much to do with the management of the farm on which a drove of 400 hogs was kept. City garbage was obtained for their food. The farm operated for three years on a $2,000 appropriation. It was voted out of existence in 1918. Now the property is the Kent county airport.

City Manager Welsh is of the opinion a farm might be obtained near the city, that the garbage could be handled in such a way as to minimize the odors and that the piggery could be turned into a profitable investment. In addition it would supply employment for indigents whose health does not permit them to obtain gainful occupations. The manager also believes an arrangement could be made with the police court whereby some prisoners might be sentenced to the piggery and that it could be operated without labor cost.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

The Meyer Music House, 17 West 8th street, Holland, has taken on a side line that is rather interesting. They have become the agency of the Holmes Electric Refrigerators, an unusual method of refrigeration.

It is stated that this refrigerator is operated by a device that soaks around like a top in an air-tight casing. It seems a simple and effective method and a picture of the machine and its economical qualities are found in a quarter page advertisement on page 2, section 2, of this issue.

County Road Paving Must Equal State

LOCAL HARD SURFACE IMPROVEMENTS WOULD RELIEVE STATE TRUNK LINES

Michigan counties must bear the brunt of the burden over the next few years relieving the traffic congestion throughout the state, according to Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner.

Counties must keep up with the state in highway construction if traffic conditions are to be improved, is the commissioner's warning. While the state is going ahead in its improvement projects counties are lagging behind. The result brings a concentration of traffic on trunk line highways, much of which could be diverted over county roads if the latter were sufficiently improved or paved, Commissioner Dillman believes.

Sustaining his argument with charts, the commissioner reveals that 20 per cent of the trunk line mileage in 29 counties of the Lower Peninsula are paved, while only 2 per cent of the county road systems in the same territory are paved.

There is little doubt but that the county roads leading from the trunk lines are being neglected terribly. Ottawa county has taken better care of its county roads than most counties, but even here there is much room for improvement.

Country folks, when leaving their home, take the shortest cut for the first trunk line, and tourists or the city dweller, seldom leave the hard surface trunk for a poor even a fair condition county road leading in the same direction they intend to go. It seems that for pleasure it would be far more pleasant to travel an unfrequented road with change of scene than the stereotyped trunk line, where every object has been seen again and again. The byways are far more interesting, if motorists only would realize it.

COMPANY D HONORED BY LEGION BAND

The Willard G. Leenhouts Post American Legion band very thoughtfully dedicated the band concert in Centennial park to and in honor of Company D, 126th Michigan Infantry who arrived in Holland late Saturday night from Camp Grayling where the National guards had gone two weeks before. Brown as chestnuts the 75 Holland men filled with enthusiasm and flushed with victory came home with the much coveted badge trophy for being the best company in the entire state of Michigan.

This is the second year that Company D has won the trophy which is unusual guardsmen all over the state say. One more winning and the trophy will be a permanent fixture at the Holland Armory. There was a large crowd at the depot to greet the boys as they came home and although there was no time for a demonstration, since no one in Holland knew just when the boys were to arrive, no preparations could possibly be made. Their home coming was immediately followed by Sunday, but on Monday the American Legion band officials and men quickly got together and decided to dedicate the concert in Centennial park on Tuesday night to Holland's Company D. There could be no more auspicious occasion since thousands gathered, the weather was ideal, and the greeting was spontaneous and not the "Heinie" Geerds and his men.

The band formed in parade formation followed by the successful company and it surely was an inspiring sight with the Legionnaires in their new uniforms followed by the well drilled National Guards, just put into shape for marching after two weeks of heavy drilling at camp Grayling. When the parade arrived at Centennial park, band manager Raymond Knooihuizen presided and called upon former mayor Henry Geerlings to address Company D.

Mr. Geerlings said in part as follows: "One of the biggest things in life is to show our appreciation for what has been accomplished."

"The story is told of a young man who graduated with honors from his college. When he asked his father for fifteen thousand dollars to start a business. His father did not accede to his request immediately but told him he would apprentice him in a cooper shop and if he made good he would give him the money. After a year of service he came to his father and renewed his request. The father told him to make two barrels. The son went to work with a will and finished his task, presented the barrels to his father. The father looked them over and was agreeably surprised at the neatness of the job. The result was that the father showed his appreciation in the giving of the amount of money he asked for."

HERE ARE THE BOYS WHO WON THE BADGER TROPHY
Names of members of Company D, 126 infantry, who attended Field Training Camp during 1929.
Captain: Henry A. Geerds; first

The young man started out and today a large trade school giving assistance to hundreds is the outcome.

"We should show our appreciation today and not wait until tomorrow. We are passing this way but once and if we fail to do it now it may be too late."

"Years ago a pastor in charge of a small congregation passed away. For a quarter of a century he labored among his people. The attendance at the Sunday services was much better than it is now. This saintly man was very faithful in the performance of his duty. Never a word of appreciation was given him. One day he, too, went over the divide. When the body lay in state many came to tell the widow how much his life had meant to them. They were sorry that the end had come. They had been comforted time and again. Then the widow broken down with grief made the remark that her husband had never received a word of appreciation during his ministry. Flowers are a token of sympathy at funerals but how much better it is to send them while people are still with us."

"There is abundant opportunity to show our appreciation. Our industries have made our city known. Outstanding men have given Holland a good name. From time to time certain groups have brought honor to our fair city. Among them are the members of Company D who have given a good report of themselves while in Camp at Grayling and incidentally have honored our city. We are glad tonight to let them know that we as citizens hold them in high regard and welcome the opportunity to show our appreciation. There is no reason why any one should withhold his appreciation. It does not require any effort on our part and we may do a great deal of good."

"When the American Legion Band renders a good program, tell them so. When the members of Company D have returned to us with praises let them know it. When anyone has done you a good turn, let him know it. When a kind word has been spoken or a helpful deed done why not let the individual know it. It will be appreciated."

The band furnished the following appropriate program of music: "The 32nd Division March," "The Stars and Stripes Forever," "Black Rose," "From Sunrise to Sunset," "The Return From France," "La Paloma," a Spanish serenade; "I Can't Do Without You," "National Emblem March," "Moonlight on the Nile," and "Semper Fidelis," a march.

Fred Pantlind Revives Resort Near Agnew

LOG CABIN AT ROAD SIDE
NOW TURNED INTO REAL-ESTATE OFFICE

Fred Pantlind, of Pantlind hotel fame, and who with his family spends most of his time at Ottawa Beach, is reviving a piece of resort property west of Agnew where U.S.-31 and the new M-50 meet.

Motorists will remember the log cabin just west of the Fore Marquette tracks at that point, well that has been turned into a real-estate office, as was intended a few years ago, but the hopes were never realized.

The new sub-division now being opened up, includes what is known as Wilderness, Shore Acres and Holcomb Hills.

For weeks gravel has been hauled onto routes which wind through the beautiful dune country to make some of the finest roads to be found in any similar lake resort. High grade gravel has been used so the roads today are in excellent condition with packed surfaces inviting cars to enter the trails and discover another section of Lake Michigan shore line which is destined to be one of the finest resorts on the eastern shore.

The entrance is being made now off of U.S.-31 near Agnew adjacent to the M-50 junction. The quaint office erected several years ago is being refurbished and two large signs tell of the new subdivision.

The roads are wide, letting cars pass in most places on easy grades. They pierce the dunes with little difficulty for the motorist. The roads have been outlined by beautiful rustic fencing and quaint woodland seats have been built along the way. Beauty spots have been left about which the road system winds and the name Lake Shore Terrace is outlined in stone at a prominent point.

This section was one of the first to be graded and prepared for resort use. It was originally the dream of Fred Pantlind to build a distinct summer colony there which would be accessible to Grand Rapids and inland by the completion of M-50.

This project was started long before the lake shore property boom, which sent shore acreage to unheard of prices. The grading and road building were of such large proportions that the project failed for a time. Recently new capital has been secured and plans are going through to complete the section.

ANTIQUE COLLECTOR OPENS UNIQUE SHOP

Several Holland people have been attracted to the Matthew's Antique Shop north of Holland which opened this season with the idea in mind that resorters at leisure would be interested in antiques. Mr. Matthews has been a collector for many years, having first been attracted to the field in the search for a hobby. His tiny country shop here holds many quaint clocks, old fashioned prints in bright colors, choice bits of Luster, and unusual styles of cabinet work. The motto of this experienced collector is this: "The people who know their antiques can't be fooled by bits of junk. I have always done business on the principle of handling genuine old-style articles."

HOLLAND METER READERS NOW ARE SEEKING "RELIEF"

Meter readers of the city of Holland who check up on how much water, light and gas Holland people use have a complaint against the reception which they receive while on duty. They claim that too many homes are equipped with watchdogs which take the meter readers for bill collectors, agents or erstwhile transients and sometimes make life miserable. They say the claim that both the most and the big police dogs. Meter reader relief is necessary for accurate work, they warn.

The Fair premium list is out. Now is the time to give it the "once over," to see what you might bring. Community Fair will be Aug. 20-23. In all of Ottawa's oil boring, there are only two "wildcats" that look rather promising thus far, after more than a year of prospecting.

Holland has been designated by the federal government as one of the quarantine bases for the extermination of the corn borer. At a conference here Monday the Goodrich wharf was selected as base headquarters, with Paul Wilcox of Gobles in charge. LANSING GIRL HURT AT MACATAWA

Miss Lorretta Fillian of Lansing was injured in the regatta race at Macatawa Thursday when her motor boat, "Little Craft," crashed into the dock while racing. It was necessary to take seven stitches in her arm and her boat was smashed completely.

Miss Fillian, whose boat is a 16 horsepower craft, won the class B race and tied for first in the C event, which was a race for boats of larger motors. The accident occurred in the free-for-all race, in which event she was running second until the time of the crash. She lost her fin and rode two laps around the course without noticing the loss. If it was not that she could handle the boat as well as she did the accident would have been worse than it was.

HITS SECOND CAR ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

A Ford delivery truck driven by Peter Dykema crashed into the rear of a Cadillac sedan driven by a man from Ohio at Ottawa Beach last week. Peter Steilstra, who was riding in the truck with the driver received several cuts from the flying glass.

The Cadillac driver took the injured boy to Holland hospital. On the way to the hospital he struck a De Soto sedan driven by Harvey Ter Vree, on the corner of 8th street and River avenue. The De Soto received a smashed fender and some dents, while the Cadillac had the fender torn from it as well as the running board.

The Cadillac driver continued his speed until he reached the hospital. Mr. Ter Vree gave chase, thinking the man was a hit-and-run driver. After leaving the boy in the hospital the Cadillac driver talked the matter over with the men and reported the affair to the Holland police.

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Sulkers are spending the week up north. Mr. and Mrs. O. Dean of Benton Harbor spent the week-end at their cottage near Buchanan Beach. William E. Vander Hart, mail carrier, is on a ten-day vacation.

UNCLE SAM'S DOLLAR BILL GETS QUALITY OF TOUGHNESS

The mystery of how long a dollar bill will last has been solved. Technicians of the United States bureau of standards and the bureau of engraving have revealed, according to a recent announcement, that currency of all denominations from the lowly $1 bill to the $1,000 note will find its way in more pocketbooks today than ever before.

How long it stays is a matter for the individual, the experts point out, but there is official assurance that with the high quality rag paper now used it will remain in circulation indefinitely.

The longevity has been brought about as result of tests of various papers and their fiber strength made in the bureau's laboratories. Records for the past year show that the quantity of paper money redeemed because it is broken or torn has been reduced until it is almost negligible.

The only way to get a bill out of circulation now, experts agree, is to stain it with grease and dirt until its figures become illegible. And even this problem will be solved in time, it is believed, through use of materials for protecting the surface with sizing, made from animal glue and other substances.

CLERGY GATHERS AT "SAINTS REST," CENTRAL PARK

Holland again has become the mecca for ministers from all parts of the country. Some are annually attracted to Holland by the lure of college days, others own their cottages at the resorts, and still others come for their annual visit with the parents of their wives who were former Holland girls. A colony of ministers is formed annually at Central Park, where they spend their vacations and conduct their religious services in their own chapel. Several missionaries from the orient also are here on furlough. Central Park has often been called by the citizens as "Saints Rest."

GRAND HAVEN HEATER SURE "PLUGGING" FOR BUSINESS

Free bus service will be given the patrons of the Crescent Theatre, Grand Haven, from the downtown section. The schedule will be found in another section. The management has done this to cooperate with patrons in other sections, to assist them in reaching the local theatre with little effort. That sure is "plugging" for business.

GEORGE SCHULING OF HOLLAND WITH DELEGATION TO GO TO STATE MEET

"Moral Delinquency or Religious Education in Michigan," will be the general topic of the program for the 69th annual state convention of the Michigan Council of Religious Education, scheduled to be held at Pontiac, Oct. 29, 30, 31.

Ottawa county will send a delegation headed by George Schuling, president of the county organization.

The annual convention of this state organization of Sunday schools usually attracts representatives from fifty or sixty counties and from twenty or more denominations.

"A convention that's different," is the catchy slogan of the committee preparing the program. The usual divisional sessions are being replaced by topical discussion groups—the topics being related to the general theme.

The home, public school, church, and general community environment will be called to task and it is hoped some constructive findings may be solved.

Delegates this year must be approved by the state council. The seating capacity of the church is only 1,200, while some of the former state conventions have registered as high as 2,700.

The program is being prepared by the council's committee on education, Rev. Morgan L. Williams, chairman, Rev. E. W. Halpeny, of Lansing, is general superintendent of the state council.

Sand land farmers of Ottawa county are invited to visit the sand land experimental farm of the Penn. R.R. at Howard City, August 8th. A number of valuable experiments have been carried out on this farm with lime, fertilizer, legumes, green manure, crops and in methods of soil management in connection with the Keystone rotation. Results of these experiments are plainly apparent and worth applying to sand lands in Ottawa County. Ottawa county farmers should arrive at ten o'clock to look over the farm, take a basket dinner and stay for the afternoon program.

NEW PICTURE OF WILD LIFE
TO BE SHOWN BY STATE

"Wild Wings," the conservation department's motion picture film of Michigan bird life, is to have a companion in the form of a three-reel release of Michigan animals, according to the educational division. Various studies of deer and fawns, raccoon, black bear, moose, woodchuck, weasel, red fox, squirrels, and other animals will be included.

There will also be a short feature reel of Michigan logging operations. The department's wild life and scenic pictures have proved to be popular with sportsmen and nature-lovers alike throughout the state. Walter Hastings department photographer, left last week for Isle Royale to obtain additional scenic pictures of Michigan's farthest north and photographs of the moose herd on the island.

"Wild Life" has been shown in Holland by Mr. Hastings under the auspices of the Holland Game Club and secured by president Joe Rhea and sportsmen here would also like to see the companion pictures completed by the state.

HOLLAND MEN HAVE A NARROW ESCAPE

Two Pere Marquette freight cars fell into the Kalamazoo river Sunday afternoon near New Richmond. One of the cars was loaded with Marquette automobiles from Flint, while the other was empty.

Warren Harris and Morris Haysner of Holland were riding down the Kalamazoo river at the time of the accident. They saw the train coming and noticed that something was wrong. They slackened their speed to watch the train. When the cars came to the bridge the cars fell and the men were so near that they were splashed with the water.

ALL SALT IN MICHIGAN WILL BE GONE THIRTY MILLION YEARS FROM NOW

There need be no alarm over any immediate salt shortage, at least for the next 30,000,000 years, so says R. A. Smith, geologist of the state conservation department, who has been doing some figuring on the Michigan salt situation.

Fourteen years ago, in 1915, C. W. Cook, university of Michigan, predicted from the information then that the state's salt supply would probably manage to hold out for 25,000,000 years. More recent investigations raised the limit by a mere 5,000,000 years, and the state geologist says: "We can now safely defy any man to tell how long it will last. From the latest data, there is little doubt that if the removal continues at the present rate, 16,000,000 barrels annually, the deposits of salt-bearing rock will not be exhausted for perhaps fifty million years, and we probably won't be worried about salt at that time."

When Mr. Cook was conducting his investigation he believed the three deposits along eastern and western margins of the state to be the main fields. Drillings in the past few years, however, have proved those beds to be only the edges of a gigantic field extending deeply beneath the entire state. Nearly 95 per cent of the world's supply of bromine used in many chemicals, also comes from the central part of the state. It is pumped to the surface in the form of natural brine and later the liquid is evaporated. From bromine comes 95 per cent of the calcium chloride supply, and during the World War Michigan supplied 96 per cent of the deadly bromine gas.

News has been received by Dr. Wm. J. Van Kersen of the death in New York of Mrs. William I. Chamberlain, wife of Rev. Wm. I. Chamberlain, former missionary in India and secretary of the board of foreign missions in the Reformed church in America for 20 years. Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter in England.

General services were held Monday in Tarrytown, N. Y. Mr. Chamberlain attended the June session of general synod of the Reformed church in America in this city and delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the class of 1929 of Hope college.

Another state convention has been secured for Holland in 1930, when the rural letter carriers will meet here in July. The invitation was extended by Leonard Kievit, one of Zeeland's oldest rural carriers, supplemented by invitations by Mayor E. C. Brooks and the Holland branch. The convention is expected to bring delegates and will be the second post convention to meet here in two consecutive years and the third state convention for 1930.

George VandenBosch and Lorenzo Crane, Allegan youths, are cruising in a 15-foot boat, which they built themselves, down the Kalamazoo river to Saugatuck, and then will go to Holland and Grand Haven. They will make a trip up Grand river and return to Grand Haven and enjoy a trip north on Lake Michigan.

Workmen are razing a landmark on the northwest corner of Central Ave. and Seventh St. This for years served as a lively stable and in the past few years for various business enterprises. The barn was built soon after the big fire in 1871 and was so badly damaged by fire and water several weeks ago that its reconstruction was prohibited by city ordinance. The property is owned by Mrs. John A. Pieters of Kalamazoo, daughter of the late Hermann Boone.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kamferbeek, Mr. and Mrs. B. Slot of Muskegon and Mrs. Henry Schaefman have left for a week's trip to the Straits and the Dells of Wisconsin.

A PICNIC FOR SAND LAND FARMERS

Allegan county farmers who have sand land problems will be interested in the annual farmers day at the Pennsylvania railroad demonstration farm, located two miles north of Howard City on US131, on Thursday, August 8th.

This long time demonstration of an inexpensive and self-supporting method of building up sandy soil becomes more interesting every year.

In writing concerning this event Mr. B. O. Hagerman, Agricultural agent for the Pennsylvania railroad, sends out the following statement:

"The annual field day has become a red letter occasion with progressive farmers of western and northern Michigan. This year it bids fair to eclipse any others previously held. There is more to see and the weather man has given assurance that Old Sol will keep Juv Pluvius in the background. An aeroplane which will drop souvenirs from the sky has been promised, which will make this the most notable occasion to be held in Western Michigan this summer. Dairymen particularly will want to keep the date, August 8, pasted in their hats. Bring picnic dinner. Free coffee and lemonade."

878 Comparisons Prove It America's finest medium-priced automobile

In a most thorough analysis of motor car values today's Oakland All-American Six was compared with 20 other medium-priced cars in 878 individual comparisons.

In these 878 comparisons, Oakland proved distinctly superior on 451 items or 51.37 per cent. All twenty cars combined were at best equal to Oakland on 382 items or 43.50 per cent. And thirteen of the twenty cars included in this group are higher-priced than the Oakland.

We are prepared to give you the complete returns from this exhaustive analysis. Let us show you the 878 comparisons which prove Oakland America's finest medium-priced automobile.

What these features mean to you

Large piston displacement is needed to develop high power at moderate engine speed. Moderate engine speed is an important factor in the life of a car.

Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

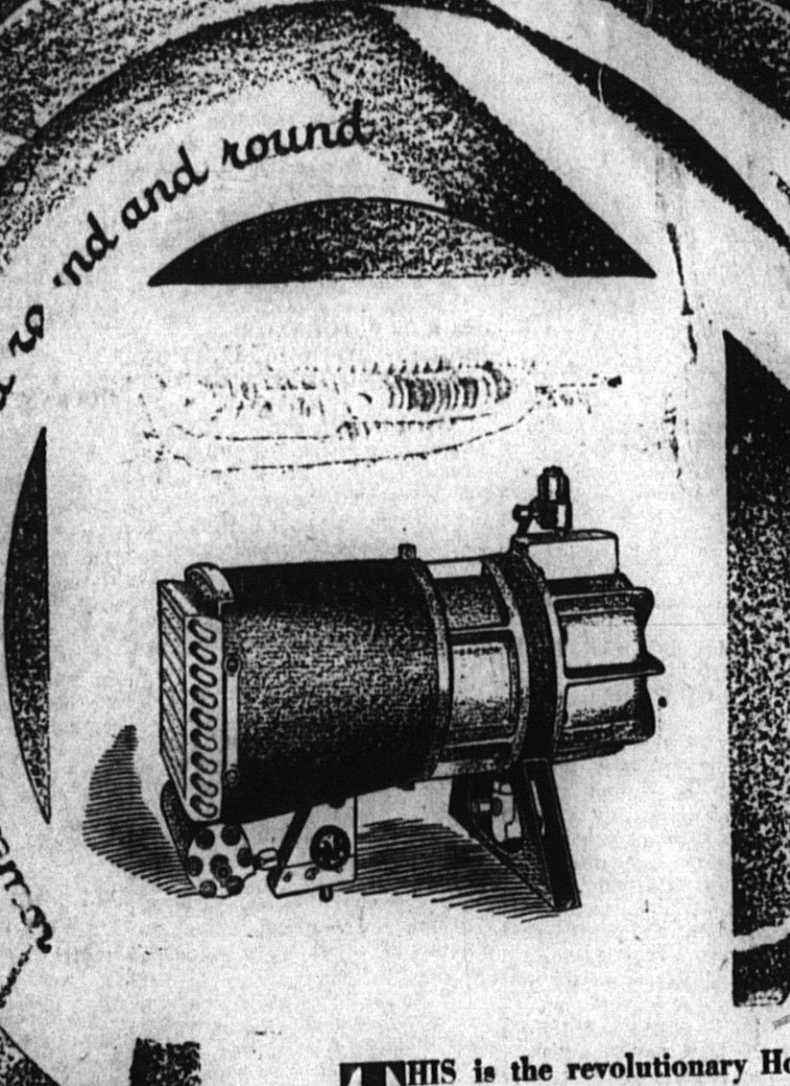

How Oakland compares with the field

Oakland's 228 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are much higher priced than Oakland.

Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values... Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for shipping when the G. M. A. C. Time Payment Plan is used.

Lesson for August 4

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST

Temperance Lesson.

LESSON TEXT—Daniel 1:1-17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—What Wine Leads To.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What Drink Leads To.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Reveling and Ruin.

I. Belshazzar's Impious Feast (vv. 1-4).

1. The attendants (vv. 1, 2). Belshazzar, his wife and concubines and a thousand of his lords.

2. Their behavior (vv. 3, 4). (1) They drank wine they engaged in revelry. (2) They committed sacrilege, drinking wine out of the sacred vessels taken from the temple at Jerusalem. (3) They worshipped idols, gods of gold, silver, brass, iron, wood and stone.

II. The Handwriting on the Wall (vv. 5-18).

1. The time of (v. 5). It occurred in the same hour in which they were engaged in their drunken revelry.

2. The effect upon the king (v. 6). He was seized with consternation.

3. The king's behavior (vv. 7-10). (1) He called forth eunuchs and magicians, offering rich rewards (vv. 7-9). Their utter inability to interpret the writing left the king even more perplexed.

(2) Daniel brought in at the suggestion of the queen (v. 10-16). The queen reminded the king of Daniel's service to Nebuchadnezzar. He was sent for and promised great reward.

III. Daniel Interprets the Writing (vv. 17-24).

1. Daniel's address to the king (vv. 17-24).

(1) He brushes aside the promised gifts (v. 17). He would not have his speech limited by the king's gifts.

(2) He reviewed before him the history of Nebuchadnezzar and applied the lesson to the behavior of Belshazzar (vv. 18-24), showing that Belshazzar should have profited by the experience of his father.

2. The interpretation of the writing (vv. 25-28).

(1) "Mene" means "numbered" (v. 26). "God hath numbered thy kingdom and finished it."

(2) "Tekel" means "weighed" (v. 27). "Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting."

(3) "Peres" means "divided" (v. 28). "Thy kingdom is divided, and shall be given to the Medes and Persians."

IV. The Judgment Executed (vv. 29-31).

In that night was Belshazzar slain and Darius the Median took the kingdom.

The Chaldean dynasty ended with Belshazzar. So we may interpret this whole scene as pointing to the conditions at the close of the times of the Gentiles, and as foreshadowing the prevailing conditions. Let us note:

1. The stupidity of men. They, like people today, would not learn by example. Nebuchadnezzar's fate should have deterred Belshazzar from such frivolity.

2. The magnificent splendor. This great feast was characterized by pomp, display, parade. How characteristic of this age!

3. Luxury. The famous hanging gardens of Babylon were a noteworthy example. Signs of luxury today are on every hand.

4. The licentiousness of the king with his wives and concubines. Licentiousness is notoriously prevalent today.

5. Blasphemous sacrilege. And may not the sacrilege of today be in excess of theirs, expressing itself in (1) a profession of religion for pecuniary gain, social and political preferment; (2) use of the pulpit and of the ministry for display and notoriety, even for the propagation of false doctrine; (3) union with the church, attendance on the communion, so as to cover up secret sins; (4) the use of the Word of God to give point to a joke; (5) denying that the Bible is God's Word, making it a book of errors, myths and legends; (6) sneering at the virgin birth, repudiating Christ's deity and setting aside His vicarious atonement.

6. Drunken carousals. The hand writing is on the wall. God will not endure this forever; His judgment shall fall. Conditions in the world indicate that the time is drawing near. Are you ready?

HOLLAND SEA SCOUTS RECIPIENTS OF $10 PRIZE AT SAUGATUCK

Sea scout Ships 2 and 18 of Holland assembled at the Superior dock at 2 bells.

We cast off at 7:15, headed for the Venetian carnival at Saugatuck with a due west wind, and an Alto Cumulus sky. At 3 bells we were delayed by the Westervelt having motor trouble. We were soon on our way again, only to have the Westervelt falter for the second time; nevertheless adjustments were soon made, and again we proceeded.

We passed Point Superior at 5:45, and five minutes later passed Drake Point. At the time running parallel with the Westervelt and the cutter Turn on the starboard. At 5:52 we passed Middle Ground Light, and five minutes later a speed boat passed our starboard bow. At 4 bells a yacht passed our port beam. At 6:15 we entered the Holland channel, the Westervelt and Turn leading by a scanty ten feet. At 6:15 we reported to the Coast Guards. At the same time the speed boat "Saracuse" overtook and passed us. We left the breakwater and turned our boats due south at 6:20. The speed boat "Easy Life" and several others, names undiscernible, passed us during the early part of the trip. The Saugatuck light was sighted off the fort bow at 6:50. At 7:22 we entered the Saugatuck breakwater. The speed boat "Gee Wiz," hovering around us, the yacht "Amury" overtook us on the Kalamazoo river.

The speed boat "Why Not" passed our port beam at 7:35. At 7:50 we arrived in front of the Saugatuck pavilion. When we hoisted in sight all the craft in the bay honored us by rousing salutes, with cannon, whistles, and sirens. We docked at Phelps dock at 8 bells, and were dismissed; Good and Michaelson being appointed to get lanterns for decoration of boats. We assembled at 3 bells and decorated three of the boats. A call to oars, to which the boys eagerly responded, and we were off in the brilliant procession. We glided by the crowded pavilion and docks three times, rhythmically dipping our oars, in salute to our friends there assembled, then returned to our moorings at Phelps dock. We were dismissed with instructions to report at boats immediately after the prizes were awarded.

The first prize to be awarded was a prize of $10.00 to the Holland seasouts for the beauty and skill of their ships under oars.

We left Phelps dock at 8 bells, Westervelt having left at 7 bells. Near the breakwater of the Kalamazoo river at 12:10, the "Harris" was hailed by the "Gracjak," that had run aground. After a futile effort to pull them off, and offering all possible assistance, we resumed our journey homeward.

We left the Saugatuck channel and headed due north for Holland at 12:45, the wind slightly stronger than on our earlier trip. The Holland lights were sighted off our starboard bow at 1:05. We entered the Holland breakwater at 1:45, and reported to the guards.

A very successful and enjoyable cruise ended when we reached Superior dock at 5 bells, and a very tired but happy crew were dismissed.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ver Schure and Mr. and Mrs. John Buursma have returned from a trip around the lake.

Alvin and Mildred Ter Vree and Jeanette Visser are on a week's trip to the Wisconsin Dells. They also attended a convention in Indianapolis.

MICHIGAN STATE PARKS TO SOON HAVE NEW ROAD SIGNS

The state park division's road signs directing travelers to the parks will soon be augmented by auxiliary signs giving the mileage. The new signs are somewhat smaller in size and have black figures against a white background. The recent legislative enactment authorizing the construction of roads to and through state parks will insure a much wider popularity for some of these parks, which may soon be approached over good roads where in previous years they have been reached with difficulty. The state now has parks on four of the five great lakes and Saginaw bay and another is to be established on Lake St. Clair.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Peppel, 62 West 12th street, who have been on a trip to Wyoming, Yellowstone Park and Kansas, were called home on account of the death of her sister, Mrs. A. Bareman.

The Namba Duo is one of those fast and snappy Japanese acts that never fail to enthrall the crowds and win them over completely with class and cleverness. When one of the boys jumps up a flight of steps on his head without ever letting his hands touch anything for support, it is easily understood why the Japs have a reputation for being among the world's best professional athletes. In their act they show some pretty robes that the boys say they brought over from their home town in Japan during their last visit. As a second number, they show what the Japanese clowns do in their native land to create laughter, and many of the stunts are so fast the human eye has difficulty in following them.
